James Sawyer of Enterprise, who is serving his second six-year term as tax collector, will be a candidate for probate judge. He is a lifelong resident of Coffee County, is well known and states he will be making a very active campaign for the office.

Douglas Feagin, a businessman of Enterprise, who served the City of Enterprise as a member of the city governing body, will be a candidate, according to a statement he made to a representative of this newspaper. Feagin resigned from the Enterprise City Council during his last term because of his health but stated that his doctor has now given him a green light as to his physical ability to serve in the office of probate judge and expects to make an active campaign for the office.

H. D. Tillman, who has served Coffee County as sheriff since 1947, stated to this newspaper that he would positively be a candidate for the office of probate judge. Also to be elected will be members of the Coffee County Democratic Executive Committee from each of the 22 Beats.

Though there has been no statement made public from Congressman George Andrews it is expected that he will be a candidate for re-election as a Representative in Congress from the 3rd Congressional District.

E.S.J.C. To Form Coffee County Genealogical, Historical Society

Plans are underway at Enterprise State Junior College for formation of a Coffee County Genealogical and Historical Society. A committee met Thursday in the office of Miss Mabel Willoughby, ESJC librarian, to discuss organizational steps. Present were Miss Willoughby, Marion Brunson, Mrs. Tera Averett, Joseph Talmaide and Mrs. Addie Middlebrooks.

Brunson, principal of Hillcrest Elementary School and a published writer on county history, was named chairman of the steering committee.

The group set Sunday, Feb. 8, as the date for an organizational meeting. Brunson said invitations would be mailed to club presidents throughout the Wiregrass area, since many Coffee County natives and others interested in county history now live outside the county.

"We are inviting everyone who is interested in either general history or their own ancestry to meet with us," Brunson said. "We will not be able to contact all interested individuals directly, but we do hope to publicize the meeting widely and make it a county-wide event."

Miss Willoughby already has begun a Coffee County collection in the junior college library. Most recent additions to the collection was a bound volume of the 1790 census of North Carolina which Dr. Baker Lee contributed a few days before his death Jan. 12. (Miss Willoughby noted that many Coffee County pioneer settlers came here from North Carolina).

The library can offer many services to a genealogical and historical society, Miss Willoughby said. It can provide housing for valuable church and family records, as well as for books of more general interest. Xerox equipment available there can be used to copy any document or page of a book without damaging the original.

While the junior college will provide services for the society, steering committee members said the new organization would be an independent community group. Temporary officers will be elected at the Feb. 8 meeting and a committee appointed to draft a constitution.

Grand Jury Returns Five Indictments

The Grand Jury empaneled by the Court on Monday, January 19, examined into seven presentments and returned five indictments, consisting of three felonies and two misdemeanors. The matters have been continued for further investigation by the Sheriff's Department.

The offices of the various county officials were inspected and found that the books and records are neatly and properly kept. The bonds of the county officers are properly filed. The inspection of the Court House revealed a bad leak in the commode in the lady jurors lounge which needs immediate attention also, as well as a leak in the wall in the Circuit Clerk's office. The Clerk is still in need of additional vault storage space for vital records. Their inspection of the jail shows that it is in a bad state of repair, windows and window screens need replacing.

The jury is of the opinion that the County Commissioners should make a personal inspection of the jail and make necessary repairs, to include painting and a full clean-up in the prisoner housing area.

Alabama Methodist Plan European Tour

A unique tour of Europe is planned by a group of Alabama Methodist for next summer. A "Person-to-Person Goodwill" tour will feature group meetings with representatives of several countries in Europe.

The tour begins July 6, 1970 from Montgomery and will include attendance at the world-renowned "Passion Play" in Oberammergau, a quaint village in the Bavarian Alps of Germany. Meetings will be set up between tour members and leading representatives of government, education, and religion in selected cities. This will give tour members a chance to build bridges of friendship and understanding as well as learn what is happening in modern Europe. Governor Albert Brewer has appointed each member of the tour an "Ambassador of Goodwill" and praised the group for this effort in "building bridges of friendship and understanding."

Major cities to be visited will be Amsterdam, Cologne, Mainz, Worms, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Venice, Florence, Rome, Pisa, Milan, Geneva, Dijon, Paris, London. The tour will last 21 days and will be headed by Dr. C. B. Smith, Troy, Alabama, Rev. T. Leo Brannon, Birmingham, Rev. Ralph Hendrick of Montgomery, Rev. Stephen Dill of Troy, and Mr. Austin Martin of Montgomery.

Eight Persons Killed In Weekend Mishaps

Week-end traffic round up Jan. 23 through Jan. 25, 1970 from 6:00 p.m. Friday through 12 mid-Sunday, your Alabama Highway Patrol investigated 146 rural traffic accidents. In these accidents 64 persons were injured and 8 were killed. The fatalities occurred in the following counties: two each in Mobile and Cleburne and one each in Chambers, Elmore, Dale, and Lee. These accidents bring the number of people killed in Alabama this year to 37 compared with 58 killed during the same period last year. This is a decrease of 21 fatalities.

The eight county Dothan District Troopers investigated 4 accidents with 1 injury and 1 fatality which happened in Dale County. The traffic law violations causing these accidents were speed, driving while intoxicated, reckless driving and driver went to sleep.

The Dothan District has 50 rural traffic fatalities so far this year as compared with 5 at the same period last year. District wise we are up 2.

Cpl. C. W. Hall reports: Coffee County Troopers investigated no accidents. So far this year 1 person has died in Coffee County traffic accidents.

'Bama Guardsmen Answer Emergency Calls

Major General Alfred C. Harrison, State Adjutant General, reports that Alabama National Guardsmen were called into State service twenty times during 1969 to give assistance to local authorities in a diversity of emergency situations.

Nearly half of the 1969 call outs involved search and rescue operations stated General Harrison. Nine times during the year Guardsmen assisted local officials in searching for lost or missing persons and in one instance for possible evidence involved in a Wilcox County murder.

Guardsmen were ordered to standby duty in local armories seven times during potential civil disturbances. Only twice, however, were troops committed to duty. During the Junior Miss America Pageant in Mobile, May 1-6, Guardsmen assisted police in guard duty at the city's Municipal Auditorium. Scene of the pageant, when local civil rights groups threatened to disrupt the concert. In September troops stood guard at several Pickens County schools for nearly a week when a boycott of classes occurred at an Aliceville high school.

National Guardsmen answered the call of two small North Alabama communities - Berry and Oakman - when the water levels in the towns dropped too low for pumping operations. Water trucks, manned by Guardsmen have hauled water to the two towns since early October.

Alabama Guardsmen assisted authorities in Baldwin and Mobile Counties in the aftermath of Hurricane Camille in August.

New Draft Questions

State Selective Service Director Hugh J. Caldwell, Jr., recently released a list of questions and answers which have been recently received at Alabama State Headquarters, relative to the new random selection sequence.

These are being listed because so many young men are concerned with the new draft procedures.

Q. As an employer, I am interested in knowing if occupational deferments (11-A) are still permissible under the lottery system.

A. Yes, inauguration of the random selection sequence did not change the law or regulations concerning deferments.

Q. If a local board has gone through the first 100 random sequence numbers in filling its call, what about the man whose number was between 1 and 100 but who was not called because he was then deferred and later lost his deferment?

A. He will not escape selection because each month each local board starts back at random sequence number 1 to fill that month's call, and proceeds forward through the list of numbers. Such action insures that registrants who during the year enter the pool because they lost their deferment or exemption after their number had been passed will be selected the same as, but before, men whose number has not yet been reached.

Q. I have a 11-S student deferment. Can I drop this deferment and enter the 1-A or 1-B pool and take my chances in 1970 on not being drafted?

A. Not unless you cease to be a full-time and satisfactory student, graduate or reach age 24, whichever comes first.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as an information service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

It's easier to find marijuana in Alabama than it is to find the truth about the drug, the most talked about one in today's world.

Almost nothing seems to be certain about it except its availability. It has a dozen different slang names, the most common of which are grass, pot, reeder, tea and weed. It comes from the hemp plant.

Smoking it or eating it generally produces feelings of well-being and causes sensory distortions. Although marijuana has been used for thousands of years, experiments with sufficient controls to determine accurately both the short and long range results of using it are just now beginning to produce evidence.

It is often said that there is no evidence that it does not cause such changes. There is evidence that hashish, a stronger cousin of marijuana, does bring physical and mental changes.

Because the possession or sale of marijuana is illegal, a purchaser of the drug has absolutely no assurance of the potency of what is being bought. It may be marijuana, it may be a weed that simply looks like marijuana or it may be the strongest cousin of marijuana.

The unknown quality of marijuana is one of its greatest proven dangers to date. Another proven danger is the false sense of ability that marijuana produces - sometimes with fatal consequences. The user can misjudge distances and miscalculate time. Walking across a street or driving a car can be a disaster.

In the months ahead, research currently underway should begin to produce scientific evidence about the effects of marijuana. Until the facts are in, marijuana users are playing with many unknown factors. Regardless of what these turn out to be, it should be remembered that the facts of life, human and otherwise, cannot be changed by a smoke, an injection or a swallow.

Home Economics Students Observe Egg Month

Home Economics students of Mulberry Heights School are among the more than 12,000 Alabama students who are taking special interest in egg cookery during January - National Egg Month. Mulberry Heights School is among the 172 schools in the state to receive part of the 25,000 fresh shell eggs given by the Alabama Poultry and Egg Council especially for this National Egg Month Study. The Council is the egg promotion segment of Alabama Poultry Industry Association and is supported by funds from the egg industry throughout Alabama.

According to Sylvia Terrell, Home Economics teacher at Mulberry Heights School, her class of 36 students have put special emphasis on egg cookery during January. Egg cookery is one of the basic food subjects in home economics classes. Each student has been given two fresh eggs by the Egg Council to assist them in this study, Mrs. Terrell said.

While we sang a song led by Patricia Kelley and Rene Hamm, Miss Sanders chose the winners. After the song the devotion was given. We pledged the American Pledge and the 4-H Pledge. The minutes were read with no corrections. We had the contest and the winners were 3rd, Lisa Turner; 2nd, Leigh Beck; and 1st, Teresa Tatum. Reporter, Kay Bryan.

Death Claims Pioneer Citizen Of County

The late Augustus Monroe Farris, was a pioneer citizen and native of Coffee County, Alabama. He was born November 25, 1876 and died January 12, 1970 at the age of ninety-three. Funeral services were held Wednesday, January 14, with Elder J. P. Morgan and Elder B. A. Anderson, Primitive Baptist ministers, officiating. Burial was in the Beth-lehem Cemetery.

On January 5, 1899 Augustus Monroe Farris married Mary Etta Lindsey. After her death he married Cecelia Ann Wyatt on January 29, 1929.

He lived a good and influential life. On July 8, 1911, Monroe, as he was familiarly known to his many friends, joined the Primitive Baptist Church at New Home and was ordained a deacon December 9 that same year and served that same church in that capacity until his death - more than 58 years. From January 19, 1929, he served as church clerk. He was also a clerk of the Clay Bank Primitive Baptist Association for many years.

Mr. Farris was a Democrat in political activities, always faithful to his party. For many years he was a member of the Coffee County Democratic Executive Committee and served several terms as chairman. Few citizens experienced as many changes in the way of life as did Mr. Farris. Friends and relatives thoroughly enjoyed listening to him tell of events of the past. He remembered the days when he went to church on an ox cart and in his early days how he would travel to Troy to haul guano back to the family farm in Coffee County. He would tell of the trip which took at least three days for the round journey. They chose a well known camp site about half way to divide the trip each way.

Mr. Farris was dearly loved by his many friends and is remembered affectionally by them. He is remembered as loyal to the duties which were assigned him and as showing courage and perseverance in using his talents wisely and fully. He is remembered as being dissatisfied with anything less than his best in every undertaking.

It was his ambition that others benefit from his life and his friends and relatives state that it can be truly said that he endeared himself to everyone he was associated with during his lifetime.

Augustus Monroe Farris is survived by his widow, Mrs. Cecelia Farris of Elba, three sons, Lawrence A. Farris of Elba, Clyde M. Farris of Baton Rouge, La., and Henry H. Wyatt of Greenville; one brother, James M. Farris of Birmingham and thirteen grandchildren.
